MASONIC EDUCATION EGO

All-too-frequently we hear of Masonic leaders being on an ego trip. Or, we hear that they are stumbling over their own egos. Then there are such remarks as, He turned into a monster after he went into office, or whatever happened to meeting on the level?

Those comments are not all without some foundation. There are, and have been, Masonic leaders who are carried away with their own importance. Yes, and there are some who let the title go to their heads, and who forget from whence they came.

Ego is a strange thing. We all should have a certain amount of it to demonstrate our pride in our abilities, in our accomplishments, and in our self-respect. It is only when we get to the point that we tend to believe that were better, smarter or more important than the next fellow that ego gets in our way.

Masonry has never been considered a democratic society. The Master of a lodge is not only its leader, but more importantly he is its greatest servant. As such, he has an obligation to serve his lodge and his brethren, not for his own glory and honor, but for the good of the lodge. He must be prudent in all of his words and actions, and if necessary, subjugate his own desires to those of the lodge.

Masters, though, are not the only ones whose egos have a tendency to hurt the Craft. Longfellow said, Into each life some rain must fall.... The phrase might well be reworded to In almost every lodge there is a nitpicker. Or so it seems.

MASONIC EDUCATION EGO

There are some of our brethren who are never satisfied. They look for an excuse to: criticize; to complain; to jaw, to sound off; to grouch;--to nitpick. Their ego, as shown by their need to be heard, is frequently a thorn in the side of the Master and officers. They have a tendency to ruffle feathers.

The Masonic Service Association recently received a letter from an irate Past Grand Master who had read in a Masonic publication a paper bearing the by-line of a Grand Lodge Officer in a sister jurisdiction. It was a good, thought provoking well-written article which caused the Past Grand Master to do added research on the topic.

What prompted his ire and disgust was that in his research he came across a Short Talk Bulletin of twenty-five years ago which sounded very familiar. When he compared it with the recent publication, he found that it was word-for-word, sentence-by-sentence and paragraph-for paragraph, identical to the Short Talk Bulletin, yet the author had not had the courtesy to give credit where credit was due. His ego had permitted him to let readers think it was his words and his thoughts.

The story has been told of a Grand Master who was so puffed up with his own importance that his officers jokingly suggested that his theme song should be, How Great Thou Art. Most of us have seen Masters of lodges who think that the title Worshipful was created just for their benefit.

And then there are PAST officers whose egos wont let them relinquish the gavel. Two people with their hands on the steering wheel at the same time can make it an unpleasant trip for the other passengers. If the Master is not in control of the lodge, its an unpleasant experience for the brethren.

MASONIC EDUCATION EGO

The old expression, too many cooks spoil the broth, is equally applicable to the management of a lodge or a grand lodge.

Yes! An overzealous ego can and does damage our Craft. It is a by-product of poor leadership traits, which we need to identify early in our progressive lines. In many cases, ego can be temp-ted by whispering words of wise counsel in the ear of an erring brother. In a worse-case scenario, when it is obvious that the over-blown ego cannot be controlled, it may be necessary to pass the brother over at the next election.

In The Freemasons Monitor, written by Thomas Smith Webb in 1799, he observes: that all, who accept offices and exercise authority, should be properly qualified to discharge the task assigned them, with honor to themselves, and credit to their sundry stations. The same is just as true almost two hundred years later.

When elected to office, the brothers are confident that the one elected has the qualifications and ability to lead and has the best interests of the lodge at heart. He is expected to conform to the principle of the order, by steadily persevering in the practice of very commendable virtue.

An often-quoted verse, titled The Indispensable Man, is frequently used to illustrate the unnecessary value of egotism. It bears repeating.

Sometime when you're feeling important,

There is no
indispensable man

Sometime when your egos in bloom, Sometime when you take it for granted Youre the best qualified in the room;

Sometime when you feel that your going

Would leave an unfillable hole

Just follow these simple instructions

And see how they humble your soul.

Take a bucket and fill it with water

Put your hand in it up to the wrist,

Pull it out, and the hole thats remaining Is a measure of how youll be missed.

You can splash all you want when you enter, You may stir up the water galore:

But stop, and you find that in no time

It looks quite the same as before.

MASONIC EDUCATION EGO

The moral in this quaint example
Is to do just the best that you can;
Be proud of yourself, but remember
Theres no indispensable man.

A noted management psychologist, Dr. James G. Carr of Charlotte, North Carolina, in an article in PACE magazine, summed it up this way:

Power-hungry people do occupy high stations in life at times and some abuse their power; but to condemn all leaders on those grounds-including those whose primary motive was to serve or those who simply filled a vacuum left by the less competent or less motivated is ridiculous.

Even the selfish did not attain those positions by selfishness alone. With predictable exceptions, authority usually has something to do with accomplishment and contribution; and, in the final analysis, we may have to concede that those who get the most whether selfishly motivated or not are sometimes those who have given the most.

The Master who completes his year in the East with satisfaction can quote those famous American philosophers, Bartles and Jaymes, by saying to the brethren, Thank you for your support.

This Short Talk Bulletin is the last scheduled to be published under the Editorship of R. W Brother Stewart Pollard who has served for the past ten years as Executive Secretary of The Masonic Service Association. In it he expresses personal opinions based upon his observations in travels to almost every Jurisdiction in the United States.

John Nelson was born in Denmark in 1862 and made his way to Mesa Arizona in 1885.

Having a knack for business he worked hard, saved his money and in 1890 engaged in the sheep business. He was very successful in sheep, soon amassing hundreds of acres of land and large flocks of sheep in Navajo country and being one of the most successful businessmen in the region. He eventually bought a large home in Heber where he spent his summers while spending the winter months in Mesa. He was a long time member of Oriental Lodge 20 F&AM

Pauline Cushman was an American actress and spy during the Civil War. She was born on June 10, 1833, in New Orleans. Seeking an exciting life, she traveled to New York City to become an actress. During the Civil War she was offered the opportunity to work as a spy for the Union Army. She accepted and soon gained the confidence of high-level Confederate officers. Caught and nearly executed, she was eventually freed and later toured the country retelling her exploits. While traveling in 1879, she met a gentleman Jere Fryer and soon fell in love, got married, and settling down in Pinal County Arizona and running the finest hotel in the county with her new husband the Sheriff Jere Fryer. Jere was a Charter Mason of Gila Valley No. 9 F & AM Masonic Lodge and served in many early leadership positions. She is buried in the officers' section of Golden Gate Cemetery at the Presidio. ## MASONIC TRIVIA

In 1937, Bro. George VI (Bro. Albert Windsor) was crowned King of England, following the abdication of his brother Bro. Edward VIII. His coronation was the first ceremony of this magnitude to be televised. The actions of Bro. and King George VI and the royal family during World War II were perceived as courageous by their English subjects, George VI remained king until his death in 1952: He was initiated in Naval Lodge No. 2612 in December, 1919. In 1922 he was appointed Senior Grand Warden of the United Grand Lodge of England, and in 1924, Provincial Grand Master for Middlesex. In 1936, he became Grand Master Mason of Scotland and affiliated with the lodge of Glamis, Scotland. He was a very active Mason in his life. Said he of Masonry: "The world today does require spiritual and moral regeneration. I have no doubt, after many years as a member of our Order, that Freemasonry can play a most important part in this vital need."

Golden Rule Lodge No. 5 under the jurisdiction of the Province of Quebec has a charter privilege to make an annual pilgrimage to the top of "Owl's Head" on the shore of Lake Lake Memphremagog. There was a Wicker basket that the candidate for the 3rd degree of Masonry must carry on his back to the 2,425-foot (739-metre) summit of Owl's Head Mountain at the annual Owl's Head Communication. Golden Rule Lodge No. 5, founded in 1803, is one of the oldest Masonic lodges in Quebec. It is the only lodge in the permitted to hold an annual outdoor "communication" or gathering at the summit of Owl's Head Mountain in the Eastern Townships.

MASONIC TRIVIA

The game score was reported Bisbee 27, Douglas 26 or something similar to that, no one was quite sure after the circus football game on December 9, 1922 in Bisbee Arizona. More than 100 men, women, and children enjoyed the game and stunts that followed almost every play and the Boy Scout fun was increased close to $500 by the end of the day. "There were flashes of real gridiron action yesterday, in spite of the fact that few expected to see anything resembling real football. But the real fun was in the burlesque. Stunt after stunt was staged, the program culminating in a remarkable operation on Harry Clark at the conclusion of the last quarter. Big Tony Fridberg was the first player knocked out, A derrick was rushed onto the field and Tony was hoisted to his feet. A few moments later Tony hit the dust again, this time it was announced that he had died and a coffin was brought onto the field and he was placed in it. Of course the it being Big Tony, the coffin was too small! There were a score of others just as funny, judging from the laughter that echoed around the field. One player knocked out, could not be revived by Dr. Bridge and his corps of physicians and nurses. A farmer rushed to the side of the injured player, drew a suspicious looking bottle from his pocket and at once revived him! Sounds like the precursor to the Harlem Globetrotters! Dr. George A. Bridge was the surgeon for the Phelps Dodge Corp. in Bisbee Arizona. He graduated from Yale in 1898, being elected into Phi Beta Kappa and came to Arizona in 1903 after graduating from Columbia Medical School. He was Master of Perfect Ashlar Lodge in 1912 and Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free & Accepted Masons in Arizona in 1915.

TALES OF ARIZONA MASONRY 1882-2016 KNOCKED OUT!!

Professor Corbett Done up in Style by Pima's Heavy Weight

Tucson is seldom treated to a pugilistic feast, such as the encounter which took place at the depot on Saturday last, which proved to be extremely interesting. The event was entirely extempore, and thus it was that only a privileged few had the fortune to witness it.

Our well-known County Surveyor, Mr. Geo>J. Roskruge, has long enjoyed the undisputed title of the "Heavy Weight Champion" of these parts. He has always borne his honors with marked modesty, and although he has frequently sought a disputant to his title in the ring, it has been more to keep himself in exercise than to satisfy any sanguinary inclinations which he might possess, and never with a view of procuring for himself any pecuniary advantages. Needless to say, no one here dared oppose him. A good wind, however, blew Professor Corbett, the heavy weight pugilist, over the Southern Pacific to Tucson, and he landed here last Saturday on his way east. Here was a golden opportunity, and Mr. Roskruge in union with one of our most noted lovers of athletics, Mr. Ben Heney, greedily availed themselves of it. They hastened to the depot to pay their respects to the traveling hero. In the course of the interview a friendly set-to was suggested and promptly agreed to. The site selected for the battle was one of the spacious card rooms in the San Xavier Hotel. Time was limited, the poker paraphernalia which was in the room was hurriedly ousted, and a temporary ring was quickly put up. The preliminary preparations of the contestants was soon over with, the first to appear being the traveling 'celebrity.' Stripped to the waist, he was a veritable gladiator in size and shape. His well formed limbs, his massive chest, graceful movement, rosy complexion and clear quick eye, all indicated careful and methodical training, and made the reporter shiver perceptibly at the probable fate of our George, for his hopes and sympathies were naturally for the success of the latter.

TALES OF ARIZONA MASONRY 1882-2016 KNOCKED OUT!!

His fears, however were soon dispelled, when with lithesome step, and a pair of light fitting, sky blue trunks, red and white striped stockings, and regulation shoes the imposing form of the home heard heaved to. The good effects of constant training were not so apparent in him his bulky but active biceps, his trim but well muscled thighs and calves, and his short and thick set neck, were however, such as to put to blush the parts of his opponent, which, as we have already said, were themselves really enviable.

Mr. Butler, clerk of the San Xavier hotel, was at once chosen referee, Ben Henry stood behind the ropes as Roskruge's backer, a traveling companion preformed the same office in behalf of Prof. Corbett, and the Citizen man was allotted the wielding of the sponge. Four ounce gloves were selected; these arrangements completed, the contestants stepped to the centre of the ring, shook hands as an evidence of the friendly character of the battle, and retired to their respective corners. At 2:40 pm time was called, and fur began to fly.

The following is a description of the fight by rounds.

1st. Corbett, as first almost overconfident of success, now for the first time showed signs of respect. Roskruge, too, realized the power of the man before him. Some very clever sparring. The Prof finished on the top of Roskruge's proboscis, making his face leak somewhat profusely. This enraged the latter, who landed a right hander square on the Professor's left eye, and followed this up with two or three quick blows for George the first knock down. The later part of the round was a free exchange for face and body blows, but they resulted in nothing decisive.

TALES OF ARIZONA MASONRY 1882-2016 KNOCKED OUT!!

2nd Round - A very sharp and fierce struggle. A clever upper cut on the Professor staggered Roskruge, who soon recovered and responded with a hammer blow on the already wounded eye of his opponent. In the latter half some heavy slogging took place, and at the end the faces of both the antagonists showed signs of ill-use, that of the Prof. was especially mangled.

3rd round- Heavy fighting. The sledge body blows of Roskruge began to tend on the Professor's wind. Roskruge too was somewhat winded. After sparring cautiously for a short while, he plunged furiously on the Professor and succeeded in four times landing him to the floor. The Professor's eye was completely closed. After the fourth fall the Prof. rose, game to the last, and succeed in giving George some heavy punishment. Finally the latter got in one of his effective right handers on the Prof's remaining eye, which extinguished the luminary and felled him to the ground. At this juncture the shrill whistle of the locomotive summoned the Professor to the train, and he was led off by his companion "more dead than alive, carrying with him a few pounds of porter-house around his eyes." He goes to New Orleans to meet another antagonist, who for the Professor's sake, we hope may not be as formidable as the last!

RAFFLES

Gila Valley Lodge No. 9 Raffle

Baal's Bridge Square, dated 1507, is reputed to be one of the earliest Masonic items in the world.

The old brass square, known as the Baal's Bridge Square, was recovered from the foundations of Baal's Bridge in Limerick when the bridge was being rebuilt in 1830. It is inscribed "I will strive to live with Love and Care Upon the Level By the Square" and bears the date, 1507. The full story is <<here>>

A limited edition of 500 replicas in "distressed" SOLID silver, hallmarked and numbered, were struck from a mold taken from the original and comes in a presentation box accompanied by a certificate of provenance together with a history of the artifact.

The replicas were made to commemorate the 160th Anniversary of the founding of the Provincial Grand Lodge of North Munster in 1842.

Gila Valley Lodge No. 9 was able to acquire one of these limited edition prized squares and had it shipped to Arizona and now it could be yours. It would be a great addition for your Masonic collection or for display at your home Lodge.

Raffle tickets are now available for only $5.

Masonic Charities of Arizona

- 2723 W. Northern Ave, Phoenix, AZ 85051-6624 -

ARIZONA MASONIC CHARITIES BEING HELPED BY OUR PURCHASES AT AMAZON.COM

Brethren, Friends, and Family,

This year the Masonic Charities of Arizona approved 18 grants totaling $30,000 to organizations throughout Arizona. These 501c3 charitable organizations provide much needed services to their communities. Those services include assistance to our Veterans at the three VA Hospitals in Arizona, Domestic abuse shelters, child learning disabilities, training and assistance for people with special needs, support for soldiers abroad, Adult literacy programs and Personal hygiene kits for the working poor and homeless.

We are able to award these Grants from the income of our investment fund, Lodge and Personal donations and support from Grand Lodge. In order to keep up with the desire to expand our Grant distribution to more organizations and communities around the State we ask for your help.

We have registered with the Amazon Smile Foundation. Amazon Smile will donate 0.5% of the purchase price of eligible products to the charitable organization selected by their customers. For Amazon customers to select the Masonic Charities of Arizona to receive these donations go to <http://smile.amazon.com/ch/94-2746389> to automatically select us.
